

Convicted Spy Near Death, British Report

LONDON (AP)—Doctors fighting to save the life of Dr. Robert A. Soblen said today the fugitive spy's heart is showing signs of exhaustion and his condition is causing anxiety.

Soblen, 61, was still unconscious more than 24 hours after he drugged himself in another attempt to escape being sent back to a life sentence in an American prison.

The psychiatrist was rushed to Hillingdon Hospital after taking a heavy concentration of barbiturates.

The hospital announced at 4:20 a.m. Eastern Standard Time: "Dr. Soblen remains unconscious. His heart is showing signs of exhaustion. His condition gives rise to anxiety."

Two security guards kept close watch over the fugitive as he lay in his drug-induced sleep.

The Home Office said Thursday Soblen, 61, would remain in the hospital at least 24 hours to recover from the overdose of barbiturates.

"We can't therefore make any new arrangements for his transport until we know when he is going to be released," a spokesman said.

Soblen became ill Thursday morning as an ambulance was taking him to board a Pan American airliner for New York and a life sentence as a wartime spy for the Soviet Union. Nearing the airport he fell into a coma and his baffled escorts rushed him to Hillingdon Hospital.

Authorities immediately began an investigation to learn how Soblen, closely watched during his 10-week detention in Britain, had obtained the barbiturates.

Both the Home Office and prison authorities refused to advance any theories.

One British newspaper speculated that Soblen had managed to board drugs doled out to him by Brixton Prison doctors treating him for leukemia. It said he might have pretended to swallow pills but concealed them under his tongue.

Unconfirmed press reports said prison officials found a cache of pills concealed in Soblen's bed only five days ago.

Other papers said pills might have been smuggled to Soblen, whose meals were brought in from a restaurant near the prison.

Neither theory explained why the pills were not found during periodic searches prison officers made, or how Soblen managed to take a massive dose when he presumably was under close surveillance.

Stephens May Be House Speaker

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A quick denial was issued Thursday to reports that financier W. R. (Witt) Stephens, representative from Grant County, may be in line for the 1965 speakership of the state House.

Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County, termed the report absurd and said there was nothing significant about a dinner he is having tonight at which Stephens reportedly is invited.

Stephens was not available for comment.

Most of those at the dinner will be members of the Pulaski County delegation.

Rep. Marion H. Crank of Little River County has actively sought the position for the 1963 legislature and is believed assured of the speakership.

Faubus' Foe to Open Campaign

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville, Republican candidate for governor, will open his campaign Saturday night at the Washington County Fairgrounds at Fayetteville.

Ricketts is expected to outline his program.

The rally, which begins at 6 p.m., is expected to draw 4,000 persons, Dave Bledsoe, assistant to the party chairman, said today.

The rally will be the first major platform campaign speech for Ricketts, a pharmacist.

Indications are that Ricketts will come out in favor of voting machines and voter registration and in opposition to the poll tax.

Arkansas is one of five Southern states still requiring the poll tax to vote in elections.

Ricketts is also expected to come out in favor of progress in education in Arkansas and higher teacher salaries.

Reports from generally reliable sources have it that Ricketts will offer a proposal on the teacher retirement system at the rally.

He has said in the past, and no doubt will do so again, that one of his strongest planks is support of welfare and old age assistance programs "insulated from cynical political influence."

Ricketts will make the principal address of a program which will include Republican candidates for the House and Senate.

W. L. (Bill) Spicer of Fort Smith, newly-elected chairman of the state Republican Party, will be special guest.

Food Stamp Plan to Be Tested

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A pending food stamp program scheduled to be tested in Independence County will be discussed at a meeting here later this month by state and federal welfare officials.

A. J. Moss, assistant welfare commissioner, said Thursday that until the meeting, the department will continue to survey welfare clients in the county to determine whether they want to exchange the surplus food program for the food stamp plan.

This survey, Moss indicated, will help the state in deciding whether to accept or reject the new food stamp plan.

The conference will deal with the state's role in the program.

Moss said: "As of today, we don't know what is expected of the Welfare Department in this program."

The federal government designated the county as one of several test areas, but the Welfare Department said the county would not be ready for the test which is to begin Oct. 1.

Currently, all eligible persons receive federal surplus food.

Under the new plan, eligible persons would have food budgets set up, with each recipient required to buy some stamps and receive the remainder free.

Officials said the plan is designed to increase the shopping dollars of the recipients as well as provide them with sufficient food.

Petit Jean School

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP)—The state board of education will study Monday plans for the Petit Jean Vocational Trade School to be built at Morrillton at an estimated $250,000. Preliminary plans call for five connected buildings to handle 200 students and a staff of 26.

Money Forces School to Integrate

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fearing a possible loss of federal funds, the Pulaski County Special (Rural) School Board Thursday quietly permitted three Negro children to enroll at the all-white Jacksonville junior and senior high schools.

Winston G. Chandler, a member of the board and unsuccessful opponent to Sen. J. William Fulbright in the Democratic primary, said the board voted 3-1 for integration, with his the lone dissenting vote.

Supt. E. F. Dunn, who confirmed the board's action, said the board was faced with possible loss of $500,000 in federal aid to the county's maintenance and operations funds unless the schools were opened to children of all races at nearby Little Rock Air Force Base.

The three Negro youngsters, whose last names were given as Crawford, are children of an airman stationed at the base.

One is a boy who entered the seventh grade, his sister entered the eighth and another sister the 10th.

School officials said there were no disturbances.

Tuesday, 12 Negro children entered a previously all-white school at Gossnell, near Blytheville Air Force Base.

This move also was reported to have concerned the district's fear of losing an estimated $1 million in federal funds.

The Jacksonville integration marked the 13th district in Arkansas to break the color barrier.

Claim in Death of Boy Not Allowed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A $12,000 claim against the state Highway Department in the drowning death of a young boy after a tractor accident, was rejected Thursday by the state Claims Commission.

The suit was filed by W. G. Carr of near DeWitt in the death of his 12-year-old son, Larry. The youngster was pinned beneath a tractor and drowned in a small pool of water when the tractor rolled down an embankment of state Highway 33 about 23 miles northeast of DeWitt June 7, 1961.

Carr said the Highway Department was negligent in not providing guard rails on an approach to a culvert and in allowing brush to obscure the culvert.

The commission conceded that the culvert was hidden by brush but said the department should not be held responsible for the accident.

There is no danger to vehicles, the commission noted, so long as they remain on the road and off the shoulder.

In other cases:

The commission awarded $3,183 to Joe and Lila England of Bay for injuries and vehicular damage suffered when their car struck a sand pile on state Highway 49 west of Elaine on Aug. 10, 1961.

The couple had sought $25,000. Awarded $1,240 to the Texas Pacific and Kansas City Southern railroads for damage to new cars being hauled which were damaged by scaffolding extending from a viaduct at Kings.

The scaffolding was being used to paint the viaduct.

Steel Officials to Be Given a Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee voted today to give top executives of four steel companies a hearing before deciding whether to recommend contempt of Congress action against them for refusing to respond to subpoenas.

The steel officials and their companies have declined to furnish the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, a unit of the Judiciary Committee, with detailed information about their production costs.

Just a week ago today, the executives failed to appear before the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., in response to subpoenas. The subcommittee voted 5-2 to recommend they be cited for contempt.

The full Judiciary Committee decided at a closed session today to give the steel executives and their attorneys an opportunity to appear at a public hearing next week to explain their stand.

Unusual Cold Wave Spread Over U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably chilly weather continued today from the Midwest into New England with lowest marks of the late summer season in some areas.

As the cooler air spread eastward and southward across the northern and central Atlantic Coast, temperatures dropped 10 to 20 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier. Readings in the coolest region from the Great Lakes and the northern Ohio Valley to the Atlantic Coast were mostly in the 40s.

The 30s were reported in parts of northern New England and in sections of the Appalachians. Lows included 29 in Bradford, Pa., 30 in Millinocket, Maine, and 32 in Old Town, Maine.

The mercury dropped to 41 in Milwaukee, tying the record low mark for Sept. 7. It also was 41 in northwest suburbs of Chicago. The 44 in Columbus, Ohio, was a low reading for the date. The 50s prevailed in the Middle Mississippi and southern Ohio Valleys.

Temperatures were near seasonal levels in most of the western half of the country. Warmer air from the South spread into the northern Plains, with the mercury reaching 90 Thursday in Philip, S.D.

Readings were in the 60s in most western areas, with 70s and 80s in the Southeast and to the mid-80s in the southwest Desert region.

Light rain fell in areas from the Georgia coast through south central Texas. Thundershowers were reported in Florida.

All Around Town

Local students entering college are Bobby Burns and Charles Moore, Texarkana College.

While Billy Compton, Tommy Hollis and Sonny Kitchens will go to State Teachers on Saturday.

Tena Pinkinton left today for St. Charles, Mo. where she will enroll as a freshman at Lindwood College.

Billy Faulner of Emmet left Sunday for Henderson State Teachers College where he has a basketball scholarship.

A reminder that the Hope-Texarkana game tonight starts at 7:30 p.m. The Hope-Prescott Junior game slated for last night was rescheduled for next Thursday night.

Both teams had open dates.

Mrs. Joe Jones, vice president of the Western Division, American Legion Auxiliary of Arkansas, was the installing officer at the Texarkana unit meet this week.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Charles Taylor, membership chairman of the local unit and Joe Jones, Post 12 chaplain.

Marshall Is Approved in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee approved Thurgood Marshall's nomination to be a federal judge by a vote of 11 to 4 today.

The four votes against recommending Senate confirmation of the Negro attorney, former counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, were cast by Southern Democrats.

Marshall's nomination to be a judge on the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals first was submitted by President Kennedy a year ago this month.

Drys Seek Vote in Ouachita Co.

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Petitions to have the question of prohibiting selling liquor in Ouachita County placed on the November general election ballot have been filed with the county clerk.

The Rev. Robert Parker of Cullendale, chairman of the Ouachita County Christian Civic Foundation, said Thursday the petitions call for prohibition of sale, barter and giving away or manufacturing all alcoholic beverages in the county.

Some communities already observe "dry" laws in the county.

No Progress, Disarms Talks Adjourned

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference began a two-month recess today after adopting a "no progress" report to the United Nations Assembly meeting in New York Sept. 18.

After six months of discussion, the conference had produced a wordy preamble to a general disarmament treaty and no apparent progress on anything else.

Today's report to the Assembly, which authorized the conference, was worked out by conference co-chairmen Arthur H. Dean of the United States and Vasily V. Kuznetsov of the Soviet Union and is a brief account of the proceedings since the current meeting began March 14.

Dean warned that something must be done soon to halt the arms race "before the world is so degenerated into despair."

Kuznetsov said that "if one filters the sea of words pronounced here" in nearly 700 speeches and "digs the rational kernel out of the heap of documents then, unfortunately, it will appear that not much has been achieved."

County Can't Increase Library Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The attorney general's office held Thursday that a county cannot increase its library tax over the constitutional one mill per dollar.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Dennis W. Horton, who wrote the opinion, said Amendment 38 placed the one mill per dollar ceiling on the tax.

The opinion was sought by Drew County Judge James T. Jordan who asked if the tax could be increased, subject to voter approval, to provide additional space for the Southwest Arkansas regional library at Monticello.

In other opinions returned Thursday, the attorney general's office held:

An absentee ballot application must be signed by the voter or else the ballot is invalid.

J. F. Sloan of Walnut Ridge, deputy prosecuting attorney, was advised that one other than the voter himself can legally sign the application.

That voting boundaries may be changed by a county central committee but only 30 days or more before the primary elections.

The ruling went to Mayor Bobby L. Glover of Carlisle. A dispute over a city election currently is being investigated by the Democratic State Central Committee.

Involved is a decision by the local party to hold an administrative election on a ward by ward basis rather than city-wide.

Red Buildup in Cuba Reason for Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, acting in the face of a Communist buildup in Cuba and other international tension, sought authority today to order 150,000 reservists to active duty.

The White House said Kennedy would send proposed legislation to grant him this power to Congress this afternoon.

This legislation would place a ceiling of 150,000 men from the Reserves of all the armed forces and limit the period of service to no more than 12 months.

Kennedy could exercise the authority from the time Congress adjourns until next Feb. 28, about two months after the Senate and House reconvene.

During that time, the secretary of Defense could extend the terms of service of the Reservists for not more than 12 months.

No member of the Ready Reserve called to duty involuntarily at the height of the Berlin crisis in 1961 could be called back again unless he volunteers.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy was asking the new authority to order Reservists to duty "because of the critical nature of the international situation."

Salinger said he was referring to the "general international situation."

Asked if the move was inspired particularly by the Soviet-backed buildup of armed strength in Castro Cuba, he said newsmen would have to draw their own conclusions.

The press secretary did say the plan was discussed with leaders of both parties in Congress when they assembled at the White House late Tuesday to be filled in on the situation in Cuba and the statement Kennedy issued that evening.

Institute for Youth Workers

An Educational Institute for Workers with Children and Youth will be held for the Hope District Methodist Churches on Monday, Sept. 10 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the First Methodist Church of Hope.

Miss Sarah Bagley of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. John L. Tucker of Little Rock will be instructors for the institute and Dr. Roy Bagley, Hope District Supl., will preside.

All church school teachers and interested parents are invited, as this important meeting will prove to be most helpful to them.

Arkansans Play Important Roles

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Three Arkansans are playing important roles in this year's Miss America pageant.

Edye Addington of Texarkana is representing the state as Miss Arkansas.

Frances Jane Anderson, Miss Arkansas of 1962 and runnerup in last year's Miss America pageant, is helping with production and singing with emcee Bert Parks. Their song is "Everybody Can't Be A Winner."

Mrs. William Nash of Little Rock, national chairman of the Panhellenic Conference and a juvenile court judge in Little Rock, is one of the judges.

MIGHTY NIAGARA—Spectacular aerial photo captures the ageless beauty of the mighty cataracts of internationally famous Niagara Falls, which continues to attract great numbers of visitors each year. New 300-foot Seagram Tower, at right rear near Horseshoe Falls, rises some 500 feet above the gorge. Visible from its observation deck on a clear day are the entire length of Niagara River, Lakes Erie and Ontario and cities of Buffalo, N.Y., and Toronto, Ont.

University Welcomes Famous Choir

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Schola Cantorum (School of Singers) came home in triumph today from its singing successes abroad. But it arrived seven hours before a scheduled welcoming ceremony. The bus carrying the 35 singers and Director Richard Brothers arrived at 1 a. m. Brothers learned that a band and all the dignitaries of the university were to be on a platform in front of the library at 8 a. m. for a gala welcome when the bus pulled in. He sent the singers to their homes and dormitories and just before 8 a. m. they all piled back on the bus. It pulled up to the platform to exciting band music and the cheers of a crowd of students and townspeople. Most everyone knew what had happened, but no one seemed to mind. The important thing was that the chorus was the first American group to win the International Polyphonic competition at Arezzo, Italy. And that it had sung for President Kennedy and the Senate.

Arkensen Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — James N. Brantley of Forrest City, Ark., and Bob L. Rimmer of El Dorado, Ark., have been named to the Commerce Department's National Defense executive reserve. Brantley is with the Forrest City Water and Sewer Department and Rimmer is with the El Dorado Water and Sewer System. They are among 1,381 in the reserve who would be called upon during a national emergency to keep industrial production going.

There are extensive commercial fishing operations on the White river at Des Arc and DeValls Bluff, from which "White River Catfish" are shipped throughout the nation.

said the chorus wasn't good enough to get federal money to make the trip abroad. Brothers said the group still had the $400 prize money it won in Italy.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A large crowd of students, teachers and townspeople turned out on the University of Arkansas campus today to welcome home the university Schola Cantorum (School of Singers).

The singers won the 40-voice division of the International Polyphonic competition in Arezzo, Italy, in August and sang Tuesday for President Kennedy and the Senate.

The group pulled into Fayetteville by bus this morning, accompanied by their director, Richard Brothers.

Skies were cloudy, but they didn't dampen the spirits of those who came to meet the singers. The university band was there and several dignitaries, including President David Mullins, scheduled speeches.

The university Alumni Association raised the money for the singers' trip abroad after a State Department Agency ruled the group wasn't good enough for the U.S. to pay its way.

It was the first American group to win the competition at Arezzo.

White House Desk to Be Returned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A delicately made desk first appraised as a $20,000 antique of the early 19th century will be removed from the White House and returned to its donor amid doubts of its age.

The desk was one of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's treasured acquisitions in her redecoration of the White House and held a place of honor in the Green Room.

Last February, when she took the nation's television viewers on a tour of the White House, the First Lady spoke glowingly of the desk and its donor, Maurice Noun of Des Moines, Iowa.

The desk was the subject today of articles in the Washington Post and in the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

The Post said suspicions that the desk might not be a genuine circa 1800 antique arose previously but were not confirmed until William V. Elder took over recently as the White House curator.

Mrs. Noun told the Post there was "some question of the desk's age" at the time she first offered it and she left final authentication up to the White House.

Elder, a native of Baltimore, recalled seeing many similar pieces of furniture that were manufactured by gifted copyists 40 and 50 years ago. He had the desk disassembled and this closer examination revealed "a lot of new wood."

Some of the woods in the top half seemed quite old, but appeared to have been reworked, the Post quoted Elder as saying.

The desk will be returned to Mrs. Noun after Mrs. Kennedy returns from Newport, R.I., later this month, the Post said in its copyrighted story by Maxine Cheshire, and will be replaced in the Green Room by a $13,000 secretary by 19th century Baltimore cabinetmaker Joseph Burgess.

The Des Moines Register and Tribune quoted the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, as saying Mrs. Noun's desk is still regarded as a fine piece of old furniture and that the White House was content to have it remain in the Green Room.

But Mrs. Noun, hearing of the controversy over the authenticity of the piece, asked in a letter to Mrs. Kennedy that it be returned. However, wrote Richard Wilson of the Register, it is acknowledged at the White House that there still remains an issue among antique fanciers on whether the desk is what it was originally thought to be.

Chilly Air Spreads Over the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chilly weather spread across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today, with temperatures dropping to record lows for the date in some northern areas.

Lowest readings were in the north central region but unseasonable temperatures extended eastward through the Ohio Valley and into the Northeast. The chilly air was expected to extend along the Gulf and Southern Atlantic Coast.

It was freezing in parts of Michigan with a 31 reading in Pellston, while Marquette reported one degree above freezing.

Some relief from the late summer cool snap was reported in the northern Plains and Rocky Mountain region, with temperatures about 10 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. The slow warming trend was expected to spread through the Mississippi Valley and Upper Great Lakes regions.

The mercury dropped to 41 in Milwaukee early today, breaking the record low of 43 for Sept. 6, set in 1885. Temperatures generally were in the 40s in the Midwest. Fair weather prevailed in most parts of the country.

Five Space Efforts by Russia Fail

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has struck out in five of six attempts to send spacecraft to Mars and Venus—and the sixth turned into a long foul, U.S. space officials report.

Twice within the past two weeks, they said, the Soviets tried to beat or match America's launching of Mariner 2 now hurtling 8,000 miles an hour toward Venus. Both Soviet attempts went haywire, added the report.

It ticked off the two space flops this way—One effort on Aug. 25 two days before Mariner rocketed into the sky—broke up in space. Its fragments are orbiting earth. This failure was reported unofficially earlier.

But the U.S. space agency disclosed Wednesday night a second attempt on Sept. 1 not previously reported. The Soviets saw this one misfire, too.

The only shot that approached success was a Venus probe in 1961, said the report, but its radio blacked out before it got even close to the planet.

The chronicle of Soviet space troubles was contained in a letter to chairmen of the Senate and House Space committees from James E. Webb, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Congress members had urged Webb to make public information on Soviet space misadventures since the Soviets only talk about their successes.

Along this line, Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., today laced into "Monday morning quarterback" whose teeth start chattering after every Russian "spectacular" in space.

Miller, chairman of the House Space Committee, told the House in a prepared speech that these critics had demanded more emphasis on military needs in space after the Soviet Union put two manned spacecraft in twin orbits.

"Our defense officials are not dots, and I suspect that their decisions are based on information and intelligence which is somewhat superior to that of their lay critics," said Miller.

With an eye toward keeping space from becoming a battleground, the Kennedy administration has announced that the United States has "no program to place any weapons of mass destruction in orbit."

This statement—reportedly written by White House staff members—was made Wednesday night by the deputy secretary of defense, Roswell L. Gilpatric.

"An arms race in space will not contribute to our security," Gilpatric said in a South Bend, Ind., speech.

"I can think of no greater stimulus for a Soviet thermonuclear arms effort in space than a United States commitment to such a program," he said. "This we will not do."

Could She Be His Soul Mate?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I love and am loved by a woman whose world is very different from mine. She's at the top of the ladder socially and culturally. I'm still climbing. My formal education ended with grade school but to get along in business, I've been attending an industrial engineering school night off and on.

My first marriage went on the rocks four years ago. The court awarded me my son, now 15.

I am 45 and the woman I love is 35. Like me, she is divorced and has a 15-year-old boy. She comes from an old family and is very intellectual. She spent last summer taking courses in archeology at the university's summer school. We see eye to eye on just about everything and often discuss marriage.

To test our love she absented herself during August, going to New Mexico with an archeological field group. Now she's back and our love is stronger than ever.

I still fear the difference in our background and education. Could we ever be true soulmates? — Questioning

Dear Questioning: There are three planes upon which people who contemplate marriage should be congenial.

The first is physical love. If you and this woman are physically attracted to one another, not sufficient in itself to insure that is a powerful reason, though complete happiness.

The second is intellectual. Even though you are not her equal, this can be rectified, as you are proving. Continue to raise the level of your education through study. Instead of attending night school off and on, do so with systematic regularity.

The third, the most important of all, is spiritual, linked to the elusive creative world of the arts and religion.

If the man is sensitive and the woman insensitive, or vice versa, heck out! Unless your values are the same, it would be difficult to live in harmony and mutual respect. However if one is deficient but striving upward, this will give the other an opportunity to help which in itself is good.

There is still another plane not do."

He declared there is no doubt that either the United States or the Soviet Union could send hydrogen weapons into orbit "but such an action is just not a rational military strategy for either side in the foreseeable future."

Self Employed Tax Deduct Bill Passes

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appeared ready today to pass a watered-down version of the bill which would permit self-employed persons to set up tax-deductible private pension funds.

Such legislation has cleared the House in the last three Congresses. But the previous measures died in the Senate, opposed by both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

However, the latest bill which passed the House last year was called up for Senate debate Thursday with its sponsors claiming ample votes for passage.

Even so, it still would have to survive a conference with the House in the adjournment rush and win President Kennedy's approval to become law.

The Senate adopted two major amendments Thursday which reduced sharply the effect of the legislation. Sen. Russell B. Long, ness late today; high 78-83; low tonight 60-65; considerable cloudiness Saturday with a few showers or thundershowers and warmer except turning cooler extreme northeast by evening.

LOUISIANA — Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers and thundershowers through Saturday. No important temperature changes. Low tonight 68 to 74. High Saturday 86 to 92.

D-La., co-sponsor of one of the amendments, said he was confident it made a Kennedy veto less likely.

Under the House version, self-employed persons could put up to 10 per cent of their income into a tax-deductible pension plan with a maximum set aside of $2,500 a year.

The Senate Finance Committee last September revised this to a $1,750 ceiling. The first $1,000 would be deductible but only half of the next $1,500.

The effect of this was to cut down the estimated revenue loss in the House bill from $35 million to about $200 million.

Long's amendment chopped this to about $100 million by providing that only half of all the money put into the plan could be deducted; this would establish a $1,250 annual limit.

Long argued that this would treat the self-employed the same way as ordinary employees fare for pension purposes.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., then won adoption of an amendment aimed at abuses in owner-manager pension plans. It would subject them to the same limitations as the self-employed must observe under the pending bill.

The Treasury long has contended that owner-managers often set up dummy corporations to obtain pension deductions for tax avoidance purposes.

Temperatures in State Dip Sharply

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures in two Arkansas cities overnight dipped below the record low 56 degrees recorded at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock.

Harrison recorded a minimum of 55 degrees overnight, and Walnut Ridge had a low of 54.

The record of 56 degrees was set in 1934.

Other readings around the state included 59 at El Dorado, 61 at Fort Smith, 59 at Fayetteville, 60 at Memphis, 59 at Little Rock, 58 at Pine Bluff and 61 at Texarkana.

Rainfall recorded overnight included 1.65 inches at El Dorado, Fort Smith had .71 inches, Fayetteville had .03 inches, Little Rock had .20 inches, Pine Bluff had .35 inches and Texarkana had .04 inches.

Analysis of Split Is Under Study

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Board of Education has received an analysis of how a proposed act allocating a minimum of 50 per cent of general revenues to schools would affect the state education program.

Board Chairman Marvin Bird of Earle said Wednesday the analysis had been prepared, at the board's request, by Education Department personnel. He said details of the report would not be released until the board had discussed it.

The act will be on the November general election ballot under sponsorship of the Arkansas Education Association.

The state board is considering whether to take a public stand on the act or to come up with school financing recommendations on its own.

Bomb Threat Empty N. O. Schools

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Anonymous bomb threats forced the temporary evacuation of three New Orleans segregated public schools today shortly after the school year started.

In each case the children were directed to file out of the school. Firemen searched the buildings, and the children returned about 30 minutes later.

The schools were the Jefferson Davis, Andrew Jackson and Andrew H. Wilson, three of the 21 public elementary schools expecting Negro and white children to attend classes together in this city's third and biggest year of desegregation.

The three schools were scheduled to receive 7 to 11 Negroes each.

New Orleans Roman Catholic schools opened Tuesday with their first desegregation since before the turn of the century. Bomb scares caused temporary evacuation at two schools Wednesday. A Negro woman's car windshield was smashed at another.

At Westwego, outside New Orleans, where the windshield was smashed, a crowd of about 100 milled around the Our Lady of Prompt Succor School, hooting at and retrieved the chunk.

Police obtained the help of a steel expert who said the metal appeared to be high-temperature resistance steel, probably from the main portion of a satellite nose cone.

Edward A. Halbach, director of the Milwaukee Astronomical Society, shipped the piece of metal by plane to the Smithsonian Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., today.

The object bored a hole in the street. Limestone in the road was powdered as if caused by extreme heat.

Apparently Space Spying Not Tricky

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. space officials who reported the Soviet Union made unsuccessful attempts to send spacecraft to Mars and Venus aren't saying how they got their information.

But other scientists say this form of space spying isn't too tricky.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Wednesday said that the Soviet Union has failed in five out of six tries to send probes to the two planets.

And the sixth try was only a qualified success because its radio transmission died far from Venus, said the agency.

Moscow has not made public any space mistakes so how does NASA know about them? Apparently the Soviet space technique is at least part of the tipoff.

NASA said the Soviet scientists used a parking orbit in each of their six planet probes.

This means a three-stage booster is used to put the spacecraft in a low orbit around the earth. When the spacecraft is in alignment with its target planet—Mars or Venus—a fourth stage would fire, hurling the spacecraft toward its destination.

Scientists said the restarting of the engine in the parking-orbit method is fairly easy to detect when a satellite is being tracked in orbit.

And when a "re-life" is attempted on a Soviet vehicle it clearly indicates an attempt to send the vehicle on a deep probe—especially if Mars or Venus is in a favorable alignment.

When the re-life attempt fails the trackers can determine whether the rocket is tumbling over or is breaking up and re-entering the atmosphere.

Another question raised relative to space espionage is whether Soviet electronic equipment being delivered to Cuba could be used to jam equipment at the big launching base at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Informed sources said it is unlikely jamming could be successfully achieved from Cuba or that activities at the Cape would be seriously hampered.

Because of the danger that a stray signal might blow up a rocket or accidentally launch one the launching systems have been carefully coded.

To interfere with a launching, the hostile party would have to know the secret code.

There were a few scattered boos, but the crowd turned most of its wrath on the white parents bringing their children to the school. Shouts of "Nigger lover!" rang out as the white parents let their children out of cars, then had to drive by the crowd.

Police were much in evidence at the school and only a block away they held a force of dogs for use in case of serious trouble.

In New Orleans, some white parents have withdrawn their children from parochial schools. The number have not been disclosed.

Archbishop John P. Cody said attendance dropped Wednesday in 23 of the 3 desegregated schools.

Weather Has Hurt Porker Practices

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (Q) —

The weatherman is playing havoc with Southwest Conference football practice. In Texas it's the hot sun — in Arkansas it's cold and damp.

The Porkers worked out in 50-degree weather Thursday and in the ten practice sessions this fall, the sun hasn't peeped noticeably from behind the clouds.

Thursday head coach Frank Broyles expressed concern over the condition of his charges and released them from their nightly skull session lest they become football-logged.

He termed the showing Thursday slopping and commented: "We're not nearly as far along as I expected us to be." He said he hopes the brief let up would pep them up.

Most of the blame, Broyles feels can be attributed to the weather.

Billy Joe Moody, starting full-back, was out with a pulled groin muscle in the afternoon session Thursday but was not expected to be out of pads very long.

Broyles announced Thursday that two players had left the squad for personal reasons.

Hermes Payne of Elgin, Tex., a fourth-team tackle, has transferred to the University of Texas, and third-string fullback Kenney Dean of Gillett has dropped out.

Broyles, hoping for a warming trend in the weather, has scheduled a game-type scrimmage for Saturday.

The head mentor said the squad would begin preparations for its opener Sept. 22 against Oklahoma State the latter part of next week, with roster changes being announced Monday.

Plump Elderly Women Ideal Contestants

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Radio-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The ideal amateur contestant in an audience participation show is a woman of age 40 or more and on the plump side.

That is the opinion of Bob Barker, who has been picking participants for his day-time "Truth and Consequences" for the past six years. Before each show, after the warm-up in the Hollywood studios of NBC, Barker walks into the audience and chooses the participants.

"I'm looking for characters," explained Barker, "but we don't want people who will freeze up when they realize they are on camera. The first thing I look for is animation. Then I ask them to stand up because I've found that many people are enthusiastic when they are just one of a crowd but dry up when they realize the spotlight is on them. Then I test a bit to make sure that they are self-confident but not aggressive."

"Lots of people come to the show feeling they would be a riot on TV because people have told them they are a scream at a neighborhood cocktail party or over a bridge table. Usually they aren't."

Barker says that, with many outstanding exceptions, his best contestants are mature and comfortably cushioned matrons.

"Married women who are over 40 are likely to be more relaxed and easy as contestants," Barker theorized. "By that time the house is paid for, the car payments aren't looming large and their husbands are safe. They know they aren't going to starve."

Frequently the amateur stars of the show are men—and he has found that he must pick the males

Alworth Makes Pro Grid Team

DALLAS (AP)—Lance Alworth,

star halfback at the University of Arkansas in 1961, was one of 62 rookies who survived the final cut in the American Football League.

Almost one-four of the players in the AFL this fall will be first-year men.

Alworth, with San Diego, was one of three outstanding rookies to stick with the charges. The other two, both from Kansas, were Bert Coan and John Hadl.

The squads were trimmed to 33 player limit this week.

San Diego and Dallas led the number of rookies, each keeping a total of 12. Houston and Oakland kept nine each, Denver eight and Buffalo seven. Boston kept three rookies, New York kept two.

Those making the graded included:

Dallas — Curtis McClinton, full-back from Kansas.

Buffalo — Booker Edgerson, back from Western Illinois.

Denver — John Denvir and Bob McCullough, guards, and Jim Perkins, tackle, all from Colorado.

Houston — Garry Cutsinger, guard and end from Oklahoma State.

Oakland — Joe Nevsek, an end from Tulsa.

Service for Editor

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A

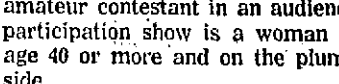

rosary was to be recited tonight for Robert D. Mundella, 36, managing editor of the Texarkana Gazette, who died Wednesday in Dallas. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Church, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery here. Mundella had served as managing editor of the Gazette since 1957. Survivors include the widow and three children.
